New BAC districts would leave three incumbents out in cold

By Jim Haverstick
Staff writer

If given final approval, the proposed Belleville Area College subdistricts released this week by the State Board of Elections will prevent at least three incumbents from being re-elected.

Four of the current trustees — Ted Farmer and Janet McReynolds of Belleville, Elizabeth Jenner of Millstadt and board chairman Larry Reineck, who lives outside of Freeburg — live in the proposed District 2.

Since only one trustee can be elected from each subdistrict, only one of the four trustees can be re-elected if they choose to run again in November.

"Everything looks fair and equitable to me," said Trustee Ted Farmer. "I am happy about the way it turned out."

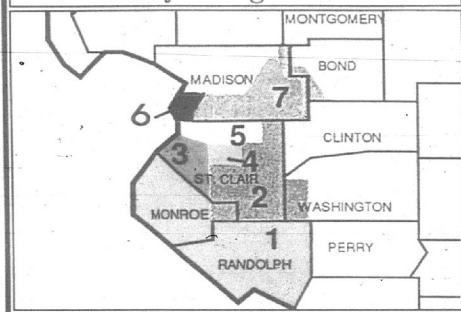

The State Board of Elections divided the 2,182-square-mile community college district into seven parts partly according to population distribution, said Ron Michaelson executive director of the State Board of Elections.

The map has District 1 stretching across all of Randolph County and most of Monroe County. District 2 includes almost half of St. Clair County and half of Washington County. Districts 3, 4 and 5 are all in St. Clair County. District 6 is in the southwest corner of Madison County and District 7 spreads across half of Madison County and a small portion of Bond County.

Each district will have about 53,400 residents, the election board said.

Trustee Kay Bennett lives in the part of Belleville that is in District 4. Robert Maxwell lives in Granite City, which lies in District 6 and Don Theobald lives in Red Bud, which is in PROPOSED DISTRICT boundaries would hamper reelection efforts of four BAC trustees who reside in the same district. Living in the areas shown are: Dist. 1, Don Theobald; Dist. 2, Larry Reineck, Ted Farmer, Elizabeth Jenner and Janet McReynolds; Dist. 3, no one; Dist. 4, Kay Bennett; Dist. 5, no one; and Dist. 6, Robert Maxwell; Dist. 7, no one.

District 1. The Board of Elections will vote on the proposed districts at its meeting June 17 in Chicago. The trustees and the public have the opportunity to question and comment on the subdistricts until June 14.

The trustees have the opportunity to comment on the subdistricts, but they will not have the authority to approve or disapprove of the new boundaries, said BAC president Joe Cipri. Cipri declined to comment on the new boundaries. "I agree with the districting," said trustee Rob Maxwell. "If it is done fairly, and it looks like it was, then I don't have any problem with it."

Bennett and Reineck have also said they won't oppose the plan. Maxwell added that the subdistricts will give representation to all of the areas covered by BAC much the same way aldermanic districts do for cities.

City cable TV may be costly

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A contemplated community-owned cable television company based in Granite City is possible, but might be costly to establish and operate.

According to Alderman Dan Brown, chairman of the city's Cable Television Committee, the venture would probably require a $3 million outlay to get on line. He said 10 percent of the initial investment would be required each year to maintain equipment.

Brown and fellow committee member Dan Partney attended the National Association of Telecommunications Officers and Advisers conference in Schaumburg, near Chicago, May 16-18.

The conference dealt with the process of starting a cable television franchise as well as renegotiating contracts with cable providers. "We could do it (legally) ... It is feasible, but it will be a difficult decision, based on a number of factors," — Dan Brown

Brown said the conference was "extremely informative."

"We could do it (legally)," Brown said. "But it would be expensive."

Mayors Von Dee Cruse of Granite City, John Bellicoff of Madison, Tyrone Echols of Venice and Glen Wilson of Ponton Beach agreed in December 1990 to study the possibility of forming a cooperative cable company. The idea is the brainchild of Bellicoff and Madison City Consultant Mike Macek.

City fathers expressed displeasure when Centex Cable Television, the local cable system, announced in December it would raise its basic subscription rate from $17.95 to $20.45 a month. Bellicoff contended that basic area cable rates had increased by about 150 percent over a six-year period.

The mayors, at Bellicoff's suggestion, agreed at that time to investigate the co-op option. Brown said he learned quite a bit about fee structures at the NATOA conference. (the cable companies receive)," Brown said. He said figures provided at the conference show cable companies incur a cost of about $5 per household per month for satellite and over-the-air access.

The remaining $15 of the fees they collect pay for start-up costs, maintenance and service, franchise fees and profit, Brown said. According to Brown, though, experts at the (See CABLE, Page 14A)

Village entangled in dog-deer-family fight

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — Accusing a dog of being "vicious and a killer of deer that has tasted blood," a village resident on May 30 loudly denounced an action by the Village Board of Trustees.

The trustees then rescinded a kennel license they had approved May 28.

At the earlier session of the two-part meeting, the trustees voted to issue a kennel license to Susan Shafer, 3670 (rear) Illinois 111.

Ron Shafer, Susan's husband, told the board at the May 28 session that he wanted a temporary kennel license in case he was regarded as having one dog too many, five instead of the legal limit of four, Village Clerk Mary Warren said.

His dogs are not vicious, Ron Shafer said at the May 28 meeting.

He said the St. Louis Police Department refused to take the dogs for police work on the basis that they were too meek, Warren said.

After learning that a kennel license had been authorized for Ron Shafer on May 28, Fred Shafer went to the recessed meeting of the Village Board on May 30 to protest the action.

Fred Shafer displayed graphic photographs of the injured and dead deer, which he alleged were killed by a German shepherd dog belonging to Ron Shafer.

Fred Shafer, owner of the deer, said he is the brother of Ron Shafer. The two brothers live on adjacent property.

Ron and Susan Shafer had five German shepherd dogs on their property, it was reported. As many as 15 dogs had been kept at the property at one time, it was alleged.

"I have never personally owned more than four dogs over the age of four months," Ron Shafer said Thursday.

"I don't want to raise dogs and I've only sold two dogs in my life," Ron Shafer said. At one time, however, both of his female German shepherds bore litters almost simultaneously, resulting in 20 puppies being born, he said.

He got rid of all but five puppies from the litters and one of the puppies was killed by a pit bull dog, Ron Shafer said.

Five of the puppies were licensed in September 1990 to the Spartan Health Spa Inc. name and were kept in pens; Ron Shafer rents the property to Spartan Health Spa and had served as general manager of the business, he said.

Ron Shafer had four adult German shepherd dogs at one time, but now has only two adult dogs, he said Thursday. Spartan still has three puppies licensed to the business, he said.

Ron Shafer said he has 16 acres of land with parts of it rented out to various individuals or businesses. He said the dogs are "barkers" and act as watch dogs at the various storage areas and garages.

There are nearly 200 acres of swampland behind his property, inhabited by foxes, raccoons, coyotes and wild dogs, he said. Two coyotes were killed by one man this year, he said.

A village ordinance lists four dogs as the maximum number on property before an owner must obtain a kennel license.

After an incident in February, involving the deaths of two deer and a third deer that was severely injured and subsequently died, Ron Shafer was charged with criminal damage to property (deer), Police Chief Chet Ballew said May 31.

On March 4 date, Ron Shafer was also charged with operating a kennel without a license. He was said to have five German shepherd dogs, including three younger animals, at the time.

On Feb. 7, Ron Shafer was charged with criminal damage to property involving a dog and permitting a dog to run at large, Ballew said.

Two alleged ordinance violations citing debris and other conditions at the property were filed against Ron Shafer on May 10, Ballew added.

Haine won't quit hit-and-run appeal

By Joe Carroll
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Supreme Court will not consider a case about the hit-and-run death of a Granite City boy but Madison County State's Attorney William Haine says he still has one option left open.

Normally, the state Supreme Court is the last stop for appeals and once the court rejects a petition for appeal, the case is dead.

But in this case — which involved an East St. Louis woman accused of running down a 16-year-old boy — Haine has asked 5th District Appellate Prosecutor Steve Norris to try an unusual legal maneuver that may force a hearing of the case before the high court.

The justices refused to hear the case last week, which means a 1989 circuit court ruling throwing out the case on a technicality stands. That ruling was upheld last year by an appellate court judge.

Norris will ask the court for permission to resubmit Haine's request that the justices hear the case. He says it is extremely unlikely that the court will grant that permission.

"Our chances of getting relief through this sort of procedure are pretty thin," Norris said. At issue is the so-called 120-day rule which requires criminal cases to be heard within 120 days of the filing of charges.

BRUSH WITH TROUBLE: Residents of the 2600 block of Iowa Street say this brush has been set out for pickup by the city Street Department for more than two weeks with no results. Street Superintendent Clayton "Jug" Harrison said the department is systematically picking up city brush, starting in the 7th Ward last week and working its way through the city. Pickup should be complete in two weeks, Harrison said. One Iowa resident said he had complained so many times that he thought "Jug must just be Mac Warfield in disguise," a sarcastic reference to the previous street chief.

AHA earns $10,500 at event

The Southern Madison County Division of the American Heart Association has accepted a final report of $10,500 in receipts from its 1991 "teleparty."

"We were 5 percent over our goal," division President Lora Alexander told the board. "Considering that this was the first event of this type we have ever conducted, we are extremely pleased with the results," she said.

For the teleparty, volunteers gathered at two locations — the Tosovsky Center alumni house on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Magna Bank of Madison County in Granite City.

From these sites, participants contacted friends, business associates and others and sought donations for the research and educational programs of the American Heart Association. The party was organized by Ted Ellerman, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, and Jim Broadway, a government affairs consultant.

Dominino's Pizza outlets in Granite City and Edwardsville contributed food and Pepsi-Cola of Alton and Pizzini Distributing of Edwardsville gave non-alcoholic beverages for party participants.

Bus child-safety studied

The Agency for Community Transit is searching for a solution to a child-restraint problem on its door-to-door shuttle service.

"We will resolve this matter," Kane said. The transit company abides by Missouri's child-restraint law because many of the agency's vehicles travel there. Missouri's law says that a child under age four or weighing less than 40 pounds must ride in a car seat.

"We come under Illinois laws and U.S. Department of Transportation regulations," Kane said. "We determine who has the most strict safety laws, and go by those."

ACT Executive Director Jerry Kane said he's looking for a solution. "There may be an agency locally that provides car seats to individuals who can't afford them," Kane said. "We're looking into that. If not, then we may have to provide them through our own agency."

Recycling generating electricity

Electricity sufficient to power 2,300 Metro East homes is now being generated at the Milam Recycling and Disposal Facility in Fairmont City, using methane gas from decomposing garbage.

The energy is equivalent to 28,000 barrels of oil per year. Officials of Waste Management of North America Inc., Midwest Region, which owns and operates the site at 155-70 and Illinois 203, said the new resource-recovery process extracts methane gas to drive Caterpillar power-generating equipment. The electricity is being sold to Union Electric for distribution to its customers.

Waste Management displayed the $2.2 million facility in dedication ceremonies held Monday.

"The gas-to-electric project at Milam is important because it means we are reclaiming a renewable, largely untapped Illinois resource," said Don Price, Midwest vice president.

This technology enables us to actively manage the byproducts of solid waste.

Landfill gas, a mixture of methane and carbon dioxide, is a byproduct of decomposing solid wastes. Methane accounts for 55 percent of the gas.

Gas from Milam is extracted through a network of 27 wells connected to a compressor. The gas is fed through two reciprocating engines manufactured by Caterpillar Inc. of Peoria.

"The Fairmont City project is an excellent example of changing a landfill byproduct into an energy source," said Rich Kogler, operations vice president, Waste Management—Midwest Region. "Without today's technology, the gas would have to be dealt with some other way, probably flared. This project not only makes commercial sense, but is environmentally correct."

Nationwide, the company has 19 gas-to-electric projects in operation. Four similar projects are currently operating in Illinois—three in the metropolitan Chicago area and one in central Illinois (Tazewell County).

Waste Management of North America is a subsidiary of Waste Management Inc., a waste services company engaged in the recycling, collection, processing and disposal of solid and hazardous wastes. Based in Oak Brook, the company has more than 700 divisions and operating units in 50 states and five Canadian provinces.

Rehearsals set for talent show

Between 25 and 30 people have signed up to perform in a special talent show this summer in Venice.

The performers are former drug addicts and alcoholics. They will sing, play musical instruments and provide other entertainment.

Rehearsals are about to start and those planning to perform are asked to call the Rev. John Henry Williams at 452-5124 for the rehearsal dates and location.

The outdoor concert will be sponsored by Project Cleanup, a group of volunteer ministers and others dedicated to helping addicted persons and to educating young people about the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

Health screenings planned in this area

St. Elizabeth Medical Center has announced that two health screenings will be held in June.

The first is set for Thursday, June 13, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Collinsville Schnucks store, 501 Beltline Road, Collinsville. Participants will be seen on a first-come, first-served basis. No appointments are needed.

The second screening will be held Wednesday, June 19, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Wellness Center, 2103 Iowa St. in Granite City. Appointments are required; 798-3201 can be called to reserve a convenient time.

Cholesterol level screenings, blood pressure tests and professional consultation on the results will be offered at both locations for $7.

Blood sugar tests, blood pressure tests and professional consultation on the results will be offered for $1.

The National Institute of Health recommends that all adults age 20 and over have their blood cholesterol levels checked, because the chances of developing heart disease increase in proportion to the amount the cholesterol is elevated.

Aided by such monitoring, an individual can take steps necessary to lower cholesterol and the accompanying risk of developing heart disease.

Mitchell residents back from Holland tulip festival

Maxine Duniphan covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Record Journal. She can be contacted at 931-2714.

George "Rue" and Velma Klein of Margaret Street and their friends John and Flossie Sands of Illinois 162 have returned from a vacation trip to Holland, Mich., and points north.

In Holland, they attended the Tulip Festival. The tulips were truly beautiful, all agreed. There they also attended the official Dutch Dance. The dancers were in full costume, including wooden shoes. Later the group visited the Tulip Farm and the Wooden Shoe Factory.

They also visited nearby Windmill Island before continuing their trip north to Sue St. Marie, Mich. After touring the city, the group boarded a ferry for Mackinac Island, where no motor vehicles are allowed, only horse-drawn surreys or carriages, or bicycles are used for transportation.

Maxine Duniphan

The group then continued their trip north to Sue St. Marie, Canada, where they visited some long-time camping friends. They also enjoyed a campout and a visit to the great Canadian Locks and Docks. After visiting several tourist sights in the area, the group returned to Mitchell in time for the Kleins to join the Colners, Tony and Norma, for a trip to Lincoln, Ill., where they attended the annual Moose Lodge Campout, at the Lincoln Fairgrounds.

The Kleins are new members of the Moose, but they are no strangers to camping out. "We had a great time," Velma Klein said. "We enjoyed all four days of the planned activities," she said.

Jim and Jeri Schieb of Mueller Avenue treated their grandson, Paul Richter, to a vacation in the Ozarks during the Memorial Day weekend. In route, the Schiebs met several friends and relatives in Eureka Springs, Mo., where they had dinner at Phil's Bar-B-Q before continuing their trip to Music City, and an adventure on the Sammy Lane Pirates Cruise in Old Branson.

The next day Paul spent going on carnival rides and watching craft demonstrations with his grandparents. They also visited an old friend of the Schiebs, Bonny Borden, then ate supper at the Old Silver Mine Restaurant. Later, they attended the Foggy River Roys Music Show and treated Paul to a pizza.

Continuing the tour of Old Branson, Paul played 36 holes of miniature golf at the inside course at the 76-Mall, then went shopping at Dick's 5 and Dime.

Before returning home, the Schiebs and Paul met with other friends from the Granite City area for breakfast at the famous Penelopes Restaurant.

Tom and Nancy Clibert of Chouteau Avenue have returned from Olathe, Kan., where they visited Nancy's sister, Judy Cooper, and family.

Their daughters accompanied them to Kansas, but remained behind for a two-week visit with their relatives. Their aunt Judy is a school teacher in Olathe. The girls thought it would be fun to help her close up her school room for the year. They return home accompanied by Aunt Judy.

Optimists aid Girl Scouts

The Granite City Optimist Club presented a $500 check to the River Bluffs Council of Girl Scouts of America at a noon meeting of the club on May 23.

Myra Parrish and Sheila Holm represented the Girl Scouts. Holm explained the funds would go toward the $40,000 beachfront renovation at Camp Buttery.

Architectural renderings of the renovation project design were displayed to club members and Holm described the camp uses and development.

The Granite City Optimist Club is a friend of youth and donates funds toward many youth activities in the Quad-City Area. Karen Gambichler, club president, said.

Anyone wishing to learn more about the Optimist Club and its program may attend a regular lunch meeting at noon on Thursdays at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., by calling Gambichler at 667-2966.

Holy Family parish-school members meet

The Parish-School Association of Holy Family Catholic School held its last meeting of the school year May 20 in the school cafeteria. Retiring chairman Nancy Kelahan opened the meeting.

Following prayer by Sister M. Angeline, the minutes of the last meeting were approved and the meeting was turned over to Rev. William Fisherkeller for the pastor's report.

He reviewed many of the topics that had been covered during the Long Range Planning Committee's meetings. The parish is in the process of reviewing and approving the addition of two additional classrooms to the school's facilities to be ready for use during the 1992-93 school year. Fisherkeller also discussed several improvements being made to the school.

Sr. M. Angeline gave the Principal's Report. Students were honored on May 20 during Awards Day; the School Carnival was held on May 21; Kindergarten graduation on May 22; Teacher's Record Day on May 24; Eight Grade Graduation on May 26; DARE graduation was held May 30 at the Granite City High School. School was dismissed at 11 a.m. May 30 for the school year.

She also thanked the outgoing committee members for all the hard work and effort they put into the activities for the students during the school year.

Treasurer Judine Lux gave a financial report on money that the PSA has received, and disbursed during the school year.

Chairman Kelahan handed over the gavel to next year's chairman, Rosa Santini, who introduced her officers. They include: chairman-elect, Jim and Marge Ash; recording secretaries, Roger and Diane McFain; corresponding secretary, Lori Hartzel; and treasurer, Richard and Dorothy Lamb.

Closing remarks were made and the 50/50 drawing winner was Lynette Cochran, and the door prize was awarded to Jim Ash.

Ron Shafer alleged some charges are a spinoff from previous incidents involving the animals. He also was not given a grace period to correct any violations, he contended.

Village Attorney Keith Jensen is handling the ordinance-related cases. A hearing on the charges is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 11, at the Granite City court.

Fred Shafer questioned enforcement of village ordinances concerning health and leash rules.

"We do have a leash law," Trustee Louis Whiteall replied May 30.

"But no one ever enforces it," a woman in the audience retorted.

A dog accused in the deaths of the deer appeared and was not caught with the deer. But Fred Shafer told the trustees that "the dog was seen in my pen and he killed my three deer."

The deer weighed about 200 pounds each and were pets, he said.

"It's a killer dog and it's got the taste of blood in its mouth. He (the owner) calls them 'sweet puppies' but they (the younger dogs) weigh 40 pounds each," Fred Shafer said.

conference said there was little chance of the legislature returning regulatory powers, especially on fees, to governments.

But, he said, many factors—including quality of picture reception and service—can be brought into account when renegotiating a franchise agreement.

Brown said the city plans to send out questionnaires to the public to determine the level of customer satisfaction with Cencom.

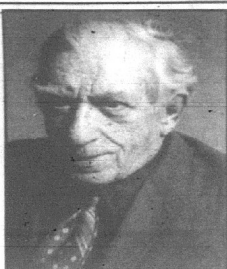

He said he would also like to hold public hearings to air any views on the subject.

Partney explained that Granite City's current cable franchise agreement was negotiated nearly 15 years ago. Under the current agreement, he said, the city is getting 3 percent of Cencom's gross city-generated subscriber revenue, which does not include pay-per-view revenue.

"Really, we should be getting at least 5 percent of the total gross, including pay-per-view," Partney said.

Granite City received $71,213 from Cencom in the 12-month period ending April 30, according to Comptroller K.P. MacTaggart. That amount includes $27 million collected by Cencom for subscriptions in the city.

Granite City's status as a home-rule city appears to be the key to initiating a cooperative

Appeal

Elisa Smith was charged in June 1989 with reckless homicide after she allegedly ran over 16-year-old Darren Elliot on Illinois 3 near Niedringhaus Avenue.

Witnesses said Smith, who reportedly tested positive for alcohol, told the incident was driving 65 mph with her headlights off when she hit Elliot.

A series of delays and continuances in Smith's case was not heard until 135 days after she was charged.

Prosecution and defense lawyers disagreed about how many days of delay each side was responsible for but the lower and appellate courts eventually agreed with the defense argument that Haine's office was responsible for 121 of those days. Haine said the defense used the 120-day rule as a "snare to trip up the prosecution."

The rule was enacted by the General Assembly to make sure

He said he thinks it is just a coincidence that four trustees live in one district and he doesn't think the districts were designed specifically to break up the abundance of trustees from Belleville.

Maxwell's candidacy will not be affected by the substituting of a new trustee to run for re-election. Farmer said he plans to run but is undecided at this time.

Reinbeck and Bennet both plan to run for re-election. Candidates have until Aug. 31 to file for election to the BAC board of trustees.

The public may submit written comments to: The office of the Executive Director, 1020 S. Spring St. Springfield, Ill. 62704. Area residents may also present testimony at the Board of Election's meeting at 11:30 a.m. June 17 at the State of Illinois Center in Chicago.

Increase sought in pay phone rate

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

If Illinois Bell gets its way, residents of many area communities will soon be paying 30 cents per call on pay phones.

The company announced Thursday that it planned to file with the Illinois Commerce Commission to raise the price of local pay phone calls by a nickel in 167 communities, including Belleville, New Athens, Smithton, Granite City, East St. Louis and Chicago.

The ICC has between 45 days and 11 months to rule on the request, and may hold public hearings before making its decision.

Other area communities that would be affected include Alorton, Alton, Brooklyn, Cahokia, Fairmont City, Maryville, Venice and Washington Park.

Two thirds of the communities Illinois Bell serves—including places like O'Fallon, Fairview Heights, Mascoutah and Collinsville—do not levy the local tax, and will not be affected.

"It won't affect them at all," said Dick Hill of Illinois Bell's Chicago office. They won't see any additional charge (on their phone bills) and they will pay the same for pay calls. That's not cities.

Hill said the proposed increase is a result of a ruling by the Illinois Supreme Court on Wednesday. The court refused to review lower court rulings rejecting Illinois Bell's method of passing on local taxes levied by those 167 communities to its customers.

Under Illinois law, municipalities are allowed to tax the telephone company and other utilities. Not all communities do. For the 167 that do, the rate varies: Belleville charges 3.24 percent, New Athens charges 2.96 and Granite City 5.34.

Since 1955, Illinois Bell has been passing those costs onto its customers in those municipalities by billing them for an "additional charge," which shows up on their bill as "city AC."

The additional charge is computed by charging the customers for the local tax on the calls they make within the state, and adding a small charge to pay for the local tax on calls made on pay phones.

The company will be allowed to continue charging customers for the tax on their own phone bills, but the courts ruled that it could no longer include the small charge to cover calls made on pay phones. So if ICC approves Illinois Bell's request, residents of the affected cities will see an increase in the price for a pay phone call, but a slight decrease in the "city AC" line on their phone bills.

"This is not something we're very happy about doing," Hill said. "It's going to cause a lot of confusion among people. People going from Granite City to Collinsville are going to see two different rates (for pay phone calls). But we can't go on just taking a chance that we would have to pay that money out of our own pocket."

The nickel increase in pay phone calls will more than pay for the tax on those calls.

Granite City Sunday Home Journal—June 9, 1991—15A

Two films revealing dark side of life debut on video

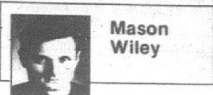

Two of last year's most critically acclaimed pictures, "The Grifters" (1990 HBO, $92.99) and "Reversal of Fortune" (1990, Warner, $92.99), bow in this week on video, starting the summer off with entertainingly nasty tales.

Both movies feature an amoral universe, in which characters do anything they want to get ahead or to amuse themselves. "The Grifters" concerns small-time con artists in California while "Reversal of Fortune" is about the filthy rich of the New York/Newport set.

Oscar nominations went to Angelica Huston and Annette Bening of "The Grifters" as the two women competing for John Cusack, a tyro learning the tricks of the dishonest trade. Bening is a kitchen sexpot who pays her rent with her body and who sees Cusack as a perfect, potential partner in crime.

Huston plays Cusack's hard-boiled mother (who gave birth to him at age 14), turning between protecting him from Bening's clutches and from double-crossing him herself when necessary.

Also nominated were director Stephen Frears ("Dangerous Liaisons") and screenwriter Donald E. Westlake, who won the Edgar Allan Poe Award from the Mystery Writers of America for his adaptation of cult writer Jim Thompson's novel.

Mason Wiley

The Oscar for Best Actor went to Jeremy Irons for his comically oily impersonation of socialite Claus von Bulow in "Reversal of Fortune," a glossy, satirical look at the infamous trial of von Bulow for allegedly causing his wealthy wife, Sunny, to go into an irreversible coma. The film is narrated gleefully by Gled Close as Sunny, lying comatose in her hospital room.

The movie amusingly contrasts the hard work of the defense lawyer, liberal, down-to-earth Alan Dershowitz (Ron Silver), to the idle, pampered lifestyle of his client, who responds, "Well, that's a start."

With tantalizing flashbacks to the times when Sunny was still conscious, the film shows the rich at play with an edge that's missing from your typical Robin Leach view of the good life. In her privileged stupor, Close's Sunny sits at the dinner table in sunglasses eating an ice cream sundae, oblivious to the family members surrounding her.

Claus, meanwhile, efforts with his mistresses, one of whom, hilariously portrayed by Christine Baranski, later gives Dershowitz a vote of confidence by reassuring him, "I told Claus, 'Get the Jew.'"

Director Barbet Schroeder and scenarist Nicholas Kazan, adapting Dershowitz' book, earned Oscar nominations for their sly work.

A vintage goodie with a similarly dim view of human behavior is Sam Fuller's fast and furious "Pickup on South Street" (1953, CBS/Fox, $19.98), a vastly enjoyable slice of low-life just recently released on video. Richard Widmark stars as a pick-pocket who accidentally finds himself holding some classified microfilm, a turn of events that hurries him into a netherworld of scheming FBI agents and Communists (the picture was made during the height of Hollywood's "Red" hysteria). The most colorful character in Widmark's path is Oscar nominee Thekla Ritter, brittle as ever as a street peddler who dabbles in espionage on the side.

Best Bet: "Mermaids" (1990, Orion, no list price): Winona Ryder won Best Supporting Actress from the National Board of Review for her role as Cher's confused daughter in this lightweight comedy/drama.

sion Entertainment, $16.98): The Godfather of Soul, James Brown, meets the Queen of Soul, Aretha Franklin, in this hour-long concert recorded at Detroit's Taboo Club. Brown and Franklin belt out "Do Right Woman," "Jimmy Lee" and "Please, Please, Please." They're joined by Joe Cocker, Robert Palmer and Wilson Pickett for the "Living in America" finale.

Future unclear for Muny 'Starfest'

Riverport Amphitheater has dried up the Starfest's possibilities

Those involved with the Muny's "Starfest" concert series are keeping mum on the prospects of its continuing beyond this summer.

David Fay, executive producer at the Fox and special consultant to the Muny, said four weeks ago that there might still be a handful of acts that could be booked.

But the Muny's director of marketing, Karen McCrory, said she had no knowledge of the series' prospects and directed all inquiries to Fay's office.

Several calls to Fay last week on the status of the Starfest series went unanswered.

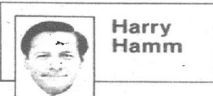

The booking of practically every major concert attraction during this summer by Contemporary Production's new Riverport Amphitheater has dried up the Starfest's possibilities.

Because the Starfest subsidized the Muny's regular summer slate of musicals, the death of the Starfest could spell serious financial hardships for the Muny this summer that will be difficult to overcome.

On the plus side, Muny staffers, while being mum on exact details, are hinting that the 1992 winter season will be the best in years.

Said one Muny official, "We've got more new shows and big name productions lined up for the winter than we've had for many seasons."

The official also intimated that not all the shows would be done at the Fox and that some of the smaller, dramatic shows may be presented at the Edison Theater on the campus of Washington University.

"Backdraft," "Soapdish" lead local standings.

Here are the top films at the box office at St. Louis' two largest exhibitors from last weekend.

Wehrenberg: 1) "Backdraft" 2) "Soapdish" 3) "What About Bob?" 4) "Thelma & Louise" 5) "Drop Dead Fred" AMC: 1) "Backdraft" 2) "Soapdish" 3) "Thelma & Louise" 4) "What About Bob?" 5) "Only the Lonely"

The box office standings in St. Louis reflected the national standings, as "Backdraft" and "Soapdish" were the No. 1 and 2 films across the country.

One big surprise on a national basis last weekend was the reappearance of "Home Alone" on the top 10 list. It came in with a weekend gross of $1.42 million. For 29 weeks, "Home Alone" has grossed $273.4 million, making it the third-highest grossing film of all-time, behind front-runners "E.T." and "Star Wars."

"Home Alone" is being re-released as a weekend matinee attraction in major cities this summer.

Cliff Robertson to be at fund-raiser

Actor Cliff Robertson will jet into St. Louis for the day June 16 to lend his presence to fund-raising activities on behalf of Child Haven, a treatment center for children aged 3 to 11 with learning and developmental disorders.

According to event chairman Lisa Nuss, Robertson will be present at a benefit polo game and luncheon to be held on that day.

A team of local polo players known simply as the St. Louis Benefit Polo Team will play a touring team from California at 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Greve Court Park. The match will be preceded by an outdoor luncheon under a large tent.

Nuss said they hope to draw 450 people for the afternoon and raise about $30,000. If you are coming just to see the polo match, there is a $10 parking charge, per car. A special $35 ticket is available that covers everything, including parking, lunch and the match.

For more information, call 534-2273. Nuss said that Robertson, who is an avid polo fan, has come to St. Louis before to help raise money on behalf of Child Haven.

The event is being underwritten through contributions from Christy Refractories, Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Dean Witter and Neilman Marcus.

Ziegfeld folly

The Ziegfeld's production of "Ziegfeld" at the Fox from May 28 to June 2 was both poorly reviewed and poorly attended.

Muny box office figures show that a total 19,161 people watched all eight performances, which is an average of 2,395 per performance. That figure represents about 54 percent capacity of the Fox, which holds about 4,300 people.

The total of 19,161 is inflated slightly because it also includes slightly free seats given to the public, the press and other entities.

Tigers deserve all that praise

There were some good crowds at the Granite City Baseball Sectional last weekend. But in a way, it's a shame there weren't more people there.

Those who didn't show up missed a chance to see a very special group of athletes. As this was being written, the Edwardsville Tigers were preparing to play in the state championship game on Friday night. Whether they won or not, their place in history should be secure.

Heading into the title game, the Tigers had won 64 games in a row. Just stop and think about that for a while. (Pause). OK, read on.

Everyone made a big fuss here a few years ago when the Warrior football team knocked off East St. Louis. It was an historic win, one which ended the "Flyers" 46-game winning streak. This is not to degrade the East St. Louis football program, but the Edwardsville winning streak is about 100 times more impressive than that of the Flyers.

East St. Louis won three straight state titles that streak, and undefeated seasons were almost expected. A powerful football team — particularly in high school — simply isn't going to lose very often. If you have better athletes than anybody else and a week to get ready for each game, you should win. That's the nature of football.

That's also true — although to a somewhat lesser extent — in basketball. But baseball is an entirely different animal. Physical talent is important, of course. But pure physicality doesn't mean as much in baseball as it does in other sports.

Early this season, Galesburg High School came in to play the Warriors. The Silver Streaks looked like a football team in stature. But the Warriors swept a double-header.

It just wasn't Galesburg's day. The Warriors had many of those days themselves. They won 21 games, but they also lost to mediocre Centralia, Carbondale and Civic Memorial teams. If you didn't show up ready to play, make an error or two and don't get a well-pitched game, you lose.

Even the best major league teams lose between 60 and 70 games a year. It happens. But it doesn't happen to the Edwardsville Tigers. It hasn't happened since April 13, 1990, when they lost 4-3 to Southwestern Platte in the second game of a double-header. I guess it's not surprising that the last pitcher to beat the Tigers — Ed Shawn Watson — is now pitching professionally (in the Mets system).

It didn't happen Friday night, and if it doesn't happen in the first four games of the 1992 season, the Tigers will establish a new national high school record with 69 straight wins. Archbishop Molloy of New York City won 68 straight from 1952-53.

It hasn't always been easy. The Tigers have struggled in the first two games at state. They've been fortunate to win some games along the way. They needed a no-hitter from Joe Blasingm to beat the Warriors 14-1 this year when Brent Dippel pitched a two-hitter.

Good pitching has been the constant. None of the Tiger hurlers have ever lost a varsity game. Blasingm and Jason Boyd have usually blown away the opposition. On the rare occasions when the pitching hasn't been up to par, the Tigers have come up with the big hits, the big defensive plays or whatever it has taken.

Every game, 64 straight. No letups.

Amazing. Edwardsville coach Tom Pile is a Rambo-type sort. Not every one likes his manner. Warrior coach Bob Stegemeyer certainly isn't best friends with Pile. But he respects what Pile has done. The Tiger players would run through the proverbial wall for their coach, something which can't be said for some of Stegemeyer's players.

They are the No. 1 high school baseball team in the state, and who could argue with that? The Tigers aren't a perfect team, but try to find a better one.

Good luck.

The Tigers deserve any and all praise they receive.

They've earned it.

LEARNING THE FUNDAMENTALS: Rick Talley, the seventh grade football coach at Coolidge Junior High School, instructs youngsters at the Warrior football camp this week. Tom Wyrstek and the rest of the GCHS coaching staff conducted the clinic each morning at Memorial Stadium and the surrounding practice fields. Practice for football and the other 1991 fall high school sports begin Aug. 19.

ROD MARSHALL of McCluer celebrates at the finish line.

'Rocket Rod' comes from nowhere

By Mike Elder
Staff writer

Don't fret it if you were one of those in attendance at Lincoln University in Jefferson City on May 25 who gave up on McCluer's 4x400-meter relay team anchor Rod Marshall when he fell about 20 meters behind.

After all, you weren't alone. Marshall, who was chasing the likes of Rite-nour's Kip Smith and Normandy's John Gould at the Missouri Class 4A State Track and Field Championships, said later that he almost had, too.

"I thought in my mind, 'I can do it,'" he admitted. "When I came down the back stretch, I felt tired. But I thought to myself, 'Let's give it a shot.'"

Marshall gave it a shot, all right. In fact, "Rocket" Rod acted like he had been shot out of a cannon the last 100 meters, streaking home to nip Gould for first at the tape in what was easily the most dramatic moment of the two-day event.

"I've always said, 'when it's close, go with Rod,'" said McCluer coach Keith Suchman. "I guess now I can say, 'go with Rod anytime.'"

With the victory, Marshall — who teamed with Rodney Ray, Carlos Allen and Emmett Wade — helped the Comets finish with 53 points in the overall team standings, second only to Blue Springs (61).

It was the most exciting of Marshall's exploits, but it was just one of them. He also finished first in both the 200 and 400 meters and also anchored McCluer's second place 4x200 relay team, exploits which helped him garner the Suburban Journals Athlete of the Month honors.

And to think the junior had a mediocre state meet last year, finishing seventh in the 400 and running what Suchman deemed a "dismal" leg in the 200.

"What a difference a year makes," said Suchman.

But how to explain Marshall's miracle comeback in the 4x400?

"Rod just has a strong will to win," said Suchman. "He also works real hard. Those are two key elements. His hard work paid off."

"It was heart," said Marshall, who dedicated his effort to Ray, a senior and Marshall's best friend. "I wanted to let 'em go so bad, but I couldn't."

Although that victory was the most satisfying to Marshall, he said the victory in the 400 wasn't far behind.

"Everybody had been doubting me," he said. "They had been saying Jay Hicks this and Jay Hicks that."

The DeSmet star, winner in the 400 last year, was almost nowhere to be found at the end of the race as he came in fifth. Marshall had a 47.89 time, easily outdistancing second place Brian Horton of Blue Springs (48.36).

"Most of the crowd caught me on the back stretch," said Marshall. "But then I turned it on and came on through."

Just as he did in the 200. In that race, Marshall outdistanced highly-heralded Dante Bolden of Kansas City Ruskin.

"He was on my mind the whole time," said Marshall. "He got on me. I didn't pass him up until the last 50 meters."

Marshall beat last year's stars this year, so it's only right that next year's stars will be gunning for him. He was on my mind the whole time, said Marshall, "He got on me. I didn't pass him up until the last 50 meters."

Miller time Marquette pitcher leads Post 113 to 5-3 victory

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Nobody's asking who Jeff Miller is any more.

The righthander from Alton Marquette High School made a successful debut with Post 113 on Thursday by knocking off Cahokia 5-3 at Varsity Field. Miller only registered one strikeout, but he scattered three hits and surrendered only one earned run.

"This is the first time we've ever had someone playing on our team outside of Granite City High School," Triplets manager Ralph Burnett said. "Jeff has lived in Granite City his entire life. I didn't know much about him, but I did see him pitch against Bunker Hill last month and he threw a two-hit shutout."

"He's not an overpowering pitcher, but he has great location. Jeff is still a newcomer, but this should get him in good with the rest of the guys."

Miller, who will be a senior next season, contacted Burnett in late May about playing with the Triplets (2-1 in District 22

"He seemed very interested in playing with our team and I was impressed with what I saw in the Bunker Hill game," said Burnett. "I wasn't about to turn away a pitcher that could help our staff."

"I decided to play Legion ball this summer to get myself in shape for the high school season next year," Miller said. "I was a little nervous making my first start with a bunch of guys I hardly knew. I wanted to win this game to prove myself."

Miller received a rude welcome in the first inning. Two errors by shortstop Jeff Stephens allowed Cahokia (3-2 overall, 1-1 in District play) to load the bases.

3-0 Junior Triplets continue hitting

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Offense has been no problem for the Junior Triplets so far. Granite City has scored 30 runs in jumping off to a 3-0 start.

The latest offensive explosion came at the expense of Bethalto Post 214 on Friday at Varsity Field. Granite City banged out 12 hits and ran at will with nine stolen bases in a 12-4 win. Jason Maxfield led the hit parade with three hits and Brent Dippel drove in three runs with two hits. As if they needed any help, Bethalto committed six errors, three wild pitches and a passed ball.

"The errors killed us," said Bethalto manager Mike Albers. "They were there, but we couldn't find the handle. I was surprised they had as many stolen bases as they did."

"We had good steal situations tonight," said Junior Triplets manager Greg Patton. "We use a lot of hit and run. When we run the bases like that, we can get the other team to make mistakes."

Almost overshadowed by the offense was the pitching of Chad Dooley. The sophomore took four innings, striking out four and walking five. He walked the bases loaded in the sixth, but escaped unharmed.

"So far, so good," said Patton. "If we keep scoring like this, we shouldn't have any problems."

"Considering he hadn't thrown in two weeks he had good control," said Patton. "He gets a little rushed at times and needs to slow it down."

Bethalto pitcher Tom Epps allowed 12 runs, but half of them were unearned. Maxfield led off the first with a single and Les Nunes was hit by a pitch. After a double steal, Jeff Luffman drove in a run with an infield out and Bill Herman tripled to drive in another.

Brian Kohler reached on an error to start a three-run second. Matt Stinson's bloop, double made him 3-0 and Maxfield singled him home. Dippel followed with another RBI hit. Dippel had a two-run double to go with three Bethalto errors to highlight a five-run fifth.

Jeff Ridenhour pitched the last two innings, striking out four and walking five. He walked the bases loaded in the sixth, but escaped unharmed.

"So far, so good," said Patton. "If we keep scoring like this, we shouldn't have any problems."

Miller

es with two outs. Miller settled down and escaped without any damage. "Miller" really showed "ie something tonight," said Cahokia manager Jerry George, who saw his team's three-game winning streak halted. "His curve ball was very effective. Our people didn't show any patience at the plate by constantly chasing that pitch. Maybe if we held back a little bit, we might have made solid contact."

But give the guy credit. We came into this game having scored 33 runs in four games and he limited us to only three hits. George compared Miller to a John Tudor-type pitcher.

"He's no means overpowering," George said. "But he does a wonderful job of locating his pitches. He worked the corners real well on our hitters and he's always thinking out there. He makes you hit his pitch. We certainly did that. Everything we hit was either popped up or a ground ball."

"John" Cozart told me every one of his pitches was to the proper location," Burnett said. "Jeff is crafty and he's deceiving. He looks like he can really bring the ball to the plate, but his off-speed stuff can kill a hitter's timing."

Miller, who was making his first start in nearly three weeks, ran out of gas in the fifth. The Triplets, however, were determined to make him a winner. Tied 3-3 in the bottom of the fifth, Mike Nordstrom doubled down the first base line with two outs and scored Brian Harshany with the go-ahead run.

Granite City added an insurance run on Harshany's sacrifice fly in the sixth. Stephens and Dan Partney had driven in runs earlier with sacrifice flies. Ryan Reeves wrapped things up with two perfect innings of relief.

striking out five. "I told our guys to score a run for Miller," Burnett said. "We made four errors and handed (Cahokia) two unearned runs. It was only fair to score one for him to win the game."

"I'm real happy for Jeff," Reeves said. "He's a quiet guy, and he's still learning his way around this ballclub. But this victory should give him some confidence."

Miller appreciated the gesture. "It's nice to know I've been accepted," he said. "The guys played real well behind me. This wouldn't have been possible without their help."
